DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Fluororesin (A): tetrafluoroethylene-ethylene copolymer (fluorine-containing ethylenic polymer (a-1); rubber (B): crosslinked silicone rubber powder Rubber (b-3); and crosslinking agent (C): 2,5-dimethyl-2,5-bis(t-butylperoxy)hexyne-3 (crosslinking agent (C-2)) in the reply filed on 29 October 2009 is acknowledged.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-6, 9 and 11-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Futami et al, U. S. Patent 4,028,431.

Reference to Futami et al teaches a composition with the fluoro-resin as claimed (a copolymer of ethylene, perfluoro propylene and TFE in column 3) and the silicon rubber with the peroxide crosslinker. The thermoplastic property and melting point of the polymer while not mentioned would be reasonably presumed present in view of the same chemical make-up, In re Fitzgerald Et Al, 205 USPQ 594. The examiner has presented a reasonable presumption that the teaching of the reference is the same as the requirements of the claims. Under In re Fitzgerald practice, it is now incumbent upon Applicant(s) to present evidence of difference between the claims and the teaching of the reference in order to overcome the rejection.
